

Lumiya sales

AI-powered sales order processing.

Process orders faster—
with greater accuracy
and less effort—so you can scale without adding overhead.

Inbound sales orders are the lifeblood of your business—but manual entry slows you down and introduces risk.

Lumiya Sales uses AI to automatically capture, validate, and create inbound sales orders from email directly in SAP Business One and other systems of record. By intelligently extracting data at the header and line levels, you reduce errors, improve turnaround times, and scale operations efficiently—freeing your team to focus on selling, not administrative tasks.

Key Benefits

Scale sales operations

Automatically receive, capture, and convert emailed purchase orders to sales orders—empowering your team to handle higher volumes without adding headcount.

Strengthen customer satisfaction

Faster, more accurate order processing reduces errors and delays—helping you avoid costly rework and deliver a better customer experience.

Increase profitability

Lower processing costs while consistently enforcing order management rules, such as discount controls, to protect and improve margins.

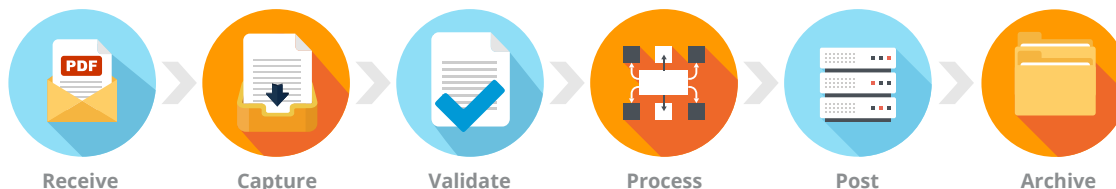

Get instant insights

Monitor and analyze order status in real-time with out-of-the-box and customizable reports, plus personalized dashboards.

Protect your system of record

Maintain data integrity with seamless, controlled integration with SAP Business One—ensuring only validated, accurate sales orders are created and recorded.

How it Works

Receive Automatically receive inbound sales orders via email, including PDF attachments, and instantly acknowledge receipt.

Capture Use Azure AI to extract order data—including detailed line items—with speed and precision.

Validate Cross-check customer, product, and pricing information against ERP data and business rules to ensure accuracy and compliance.

Process Manage exceptions with intelligent workflows, routing orders for approval or manual review when needed.

Post Automatically create and post validated sales orders to your ERP, CRM, or other internal systems.

Archive Securely archive processed documents for easy retrieval and audit readiness. Supported documents include sales orders, quotations, and invoices.
